

Dear Gloria,

The last one was in 1638 and next one won't happen till 2094. So best to try to see tonight's total lunar eclipse coinciding with the winter solstice.

That's extraordinary, but it's not why this December 21 is auspicious to me. Alex and I will be celebrating our 30th wedding anniversary. We think that's pretty spectacular.

If that weren't enough, our auspicious grandson Nick Bosse was born on this date 15 years ago. Good friends Karen Scates and Jane Fonda (who changed my life with her first exercise videos-and have you seen her new ones?) share this special natal day, and Corky and Mike Stoller are on a cruise to celebrate their 40th anniversary. And if you're a history buff, you might know that the Mayflower landed at Plymouth Rock on December 21, 1620.

The list of happily auspicious events is long, but I won't go on since you're probably busy with last minute shopping and holiday parties. (Except to say that if you want a signed No Excuses bookplate as a gift for yourself or a friend, e-mail me; tell how you want it inscribed, give me your mailing address, and I'll mail it to you post haste.)

As the moon reemerges to light the winter sky, may your life sparkle, your holidays glitter, and your New Year be radiant with the most auspicious of possibilities.

Sending unlimited love and No Excuses,

Gloria
